GREENS CAN WIN HERE

The Green Party have announced their two candidates for Halesworth's two District Council seats up for election on May 4th: Beth Keys-Holloway, introduced in the last Greenview issue and now Geoff Wakeling.

Geoff runs a regenerative farm in Bramfield. Brimwood Farm focuses on rare breed pigs and sheep along with a market vegetable garden across the 37 acre site first farmed by his great grandfather. Geoff says 'I think the time has come for a political change, and I'd be excited to work hard for the people of Halesworth and surrounding villages as a District Councillor'.

GREENS: INDEPENDENT VOICES ON COUNCIL

ENDING THE CONSERVATIVE MONOPOLY

Both green candidates Beth Keys-Holloway and Geoff Wakeling have already been out and about in Halesworth and surrounding villages, and have heard many concerns about how the Conservative-run Council could do better.

"From HGVs ignoring weight limits, to air pollution, dangerous roads, poor local planning, the need for better community services—and more—we are determined to make the District Council work better to protect and improve the places that we call home."

BETH & GEOFF WORK HARD AND GET THINGS DONE.

COUNCILLOR ANNETTE DUNNING:

"Having been elected to the County Council in 2021 I've been working hard for Halesworth Division residents ever since. Electing Beth and Geoff to the District Council will make such a difference to the whole area."

JEN'S LITTER-PICKING LEGACY

Halesworth's inspirational eco-activist Jen Berry (right) sadly passed away in December.

"After decades of campaigning with organisations such as Greenpeace and the Green Party, she devoted her later years to cheerfully picking up huge amounts of litter across the town" said Beth Keys-Holloway (below).

Unfortunately that problem has not gone away, as well as a rising dog mess nuisance across the town.

Geoff and Beth are both supporting a local initiative to continue with regular litter picking and to keep Halesworth town free of litter.

OUR PRIORITIES

Here are just some of the things that we want to work on if elected:

- Double targets for affordable housing
- More youth opportunities in rural areas
- Tackle anti-social driving & behaviour
- Keep our communities clean
- More rural bus services and cycling
- Ensure planning decisions bring benefits to our communities

✓ WORK HARD FOR RESIDENTS ALL YEAR ROUND!

CAN WE HELP?

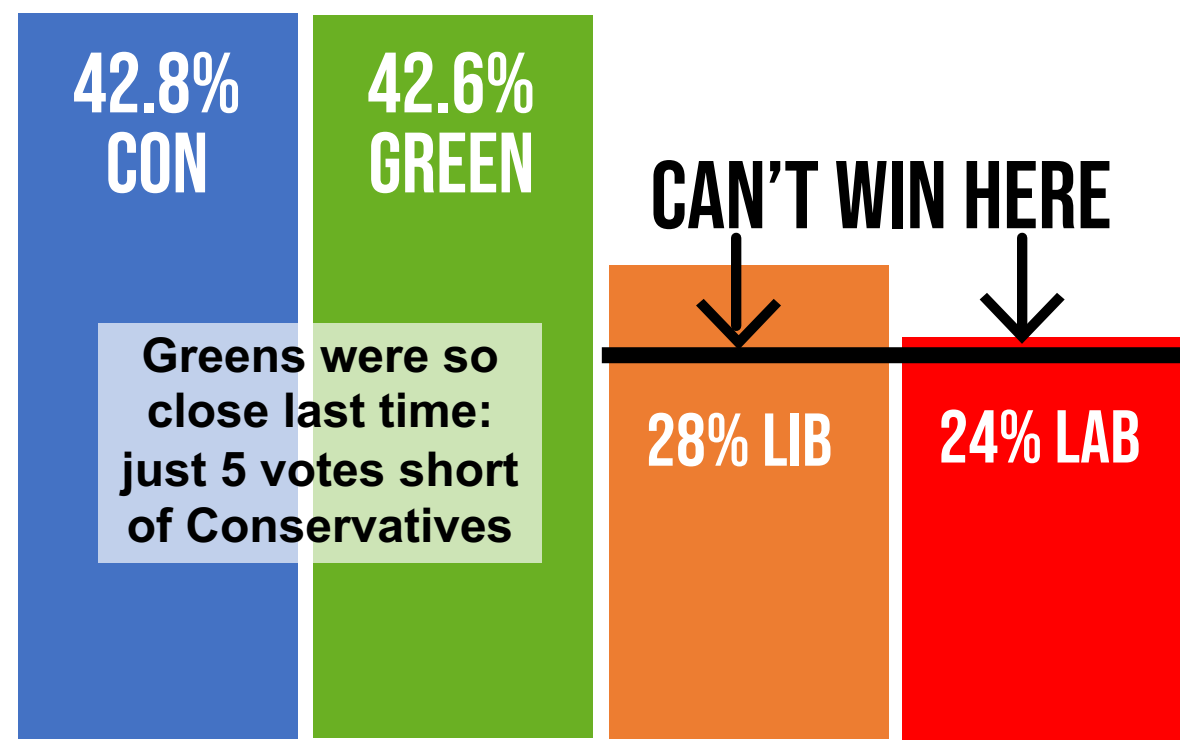

"We believe this area is a wonderful place to live. But we'd love to hear your views on what could be improved and how we could best represent you if elected."
